About the webinar-

Social Justice and harmony in Sanskrit Literature is as old as existence of humans on this earth compared to attribute of God in all aspects. In Sanskrit Literature primacy of common good has always had a precedence, including Vedas, Puranas, Smriti's and complete ancient Literature. Reciprocal rights and responsibilities, dignity of work and fundamental unity and divinity, of all life with empathy and harmony. The law to be administered was the Dharmashashtra as it constituted the sacred law and disputes to be decided by giving prime importance to the wellbeing and development of the community. Social Justice and harmony cannot be alienated from the actions and actual world henceforth we need to build up our perceptions regarding morality and responsibilities towards ourselves and to our society. Going back to the Vedas and imbibing the Principles wholeheartedly is the most important aspect in the contemporary situations in order to accomplish a peaceful and a prosperous society with complete understanding and feeling of Social harmony attaining social Justice towards a flourishing society.
